OCTOBER 2018

Teachers from all year levels welcome

Join 19 other participants for this unique event where you will experience the river and its flood plain. Learn about the Indigenous connections to this landscape, explore the local biodiversity, learn more about the fresh water and salt water ecosystems of the area, and hear about the key environmental issues that threaten the Canning River ecosystem.

Enjoy this active learning day for local teachers, youth group leaders and community members. Collect a teacher resource pack containing some great resources to support your learning program.
