Title: Cleaning Up the Canning Coordinator
Employer: South East Regional Centre for Urban Landcare
Number: 1 FTE
Term: Four years

It is expected that the Cleaning Up the Canning Coordinator will coordinate the planning, development, implementation and monitoring of sub-projects (to varying degrees) that are part of the Cleaning Up the Canning Project. The Cleaning Up the Canning Project is funded by the Urban Rivers and Catchments Program that will provide $10 million of funding to approximately 17 sub-projects in the Canning, Southern and Wungong River Catchments. The sub-projects will be up to four years in length and will involve partnerships with community groups, local government and State government. The Cleaning Up the Canning Coordinator will support Project Officers from other organisations to implement their sub-projects and will be responsible for implementing some of the sub-projects. The Cleaning Up the Canning Coordinator, with support from the Department of Biodiversity, Conservation and Attractions, will also oversee the budgets and reporting requirements of the sub-projects. They will also provide executive support for the River Funding Steering Committee that oversees the Cleaning Up the Canning Project.

The position requires well developed Natural Resource Management skills, high level project management skills, high level stakeholder collaboration and relationship building skills, and have demonstrated analytical and problem solving skills. Outlined below are the key duties and roles of the Cleaning Up the Canning Coordinator.

Key Responsibility Areas
1	Project manage the planning, development, implementation and monitoring of Cleaning up the Canning sub-projects (to varying degrees), as agreed with the River Funding Steering Committee.
2	Coordinate and facilitate stakeholder involvement in the implementation of the Cleaning Up the Canning project and its sub-projects.
3	Coordinate planning, cultural, environmental and any other identified approvals required as part of the project.
4	Coordinate procurement and contractual arrangements for identified sub-projects within the Cleaning Up the Canning project.
5	Provide executive support for the River Funding Steering Committee meetings and other project specific meetings as required.
6	Coordinate six monthly monitoring and reporting requirements of the sub-projects in line with Monitoring, Evaluation, Reporting and Improvement (MERI) plans and other project reporting requirements.
7	Supervise small teams and ensure the safety of staff, volunteers and contractors under direct supervision.
8	Conduct work in a safe and responsible manner in line with Work Health and Safety policies and procedures.
9	Utilise computer systems for communication, project development, analysis of data and report writing.

Organisational Relationship: Responsible to the SERCUL Chief Executive Officer. Works closely with other SERCUL Officers, River Funding Steering Committee members, community environment groups, Local Council Officers, State Government Officers, Funding Body Officers, contractors, local schools, landcare groups and volunteers.

Extent of Authority: This position operates within the limits of the contracts related to the Cleaning Up the Canning project agreements and the constituted requirements of the South East Regional Centre for Urban Landcare Inc. The position will be required to supervise community volunteers and contractors.

This Position Description is only descriptive of the type of duties to be undertaken during the period of employment, and the employee accepts that SERCUL may require the employee to carry out any duties, which are within the employee's skill and competence.

Information for Applicants

a. Eligibility to apply

Only those applicants who meet all the essential Selection Criteria will be considered for the position. Please check the Selection Criteria described in the advertisement and specified on the Position Description Statement (PDS) to make sure you are eligible to apply.

b. Preparing your application

Your application is the first step towards securing an interview. You are requested to use the format detailed below.

Your application should include the following:

- A completed Application for Vacancy form;
- A statement addressing the Selection Criteria and how you satisfy each requirement;
- A copy of your current resume;
- The names and contact details of two referees; and
- Any additional information that is relevant to the position for which you are applying.

You can submit your application via email or hard copy to the office. Please type applications on white paper and staple together in the top left hand corner. Do not put your application in binders or plastic sleeves.

c. Completing the Application for Job Vacancy form

The completed Application for Job Vacancy form must be included in your package.

Your Application for Job Vacancy form should identify the requested number of referees who can provide information on your work performance. You should contact all referees as a courtesy and ask if they are willing to provide a referee report if the selection panel asks for it before nominating them on your application form.

d. Statement addressing the Selection Criteria

This document is the most important part of your application. Your comments should relate your skills and experience to the Selection Criteria. The Selection Criteria are the skills, qualifications and experience that are considered necessary to successfully perform the duties of the advertised position.

It is strongly recommended that you use each of the Selection Criteria as a heading and outline your relevant skills and experience separately against each by providing relevant examples.

Unsubstantiated statements of self-assessment, eg “I have outstanding communication skills” or “I have been an outcomes-focused, high performing manager” will not be considered sufficient.

It is imperative that all information in this part of your application is clear, relevant and concisely presented in order that the selection panel may readily assess your claims. You should therefore aim to limit your responses to ½ page for each criterion.

Refer to the enclosed STAR handout for further information about responding to Selection Criteria.

On completion of your statement addressing the Selection Criteria, briefly summarise your claims (experience, skills, training, knowledge, etc.) and if you wish, provide the panel with your motivation for applying for the position.

e. Your resume

Your resume should include the following information:

- Your personal details, including your current contact telephone number;
- A summarised work history (starting with your most recent position), including dates and details of the tasks/responsibilities undertaken in each position and most importantly, your achievements in each of the positions you've held;
- Your formal education history and training achievements, including current undertakings, and membership of any professional bodies; and
- Any activities outside of work that you feel are relevant to the position.

Your resume should be presented in a clear, simple 12-point font, and should be no longer than four pages.

f. The interview

Interviews are generally held within two weeks of the closing date for applications. Should you have any queries regarding the progress of your application, please contact the person nominated in the advertisement. The decision to grant an interview will be based upon the written application demonstrating that the applicant meets at least the essential Selection Criteria, and that they are competitive with other applicants.

If you are successful in being shortlisted for interview, you will be notified either by telephone or in writing and an interview time agreed upon. If you are unsuccessful in being shortlisted for interview you will be notified in writing.

All interview questions will be directly related to the Selection Criteria.

g. Seeking feedback

When you have been advised of the result of the interview process, you are encouraged to seek feedback on your application from the nominated person from the selection panel. This feedback may be invaluable when next you are preparing an application or seeking an interview.

Feedback is provided verbally by a panel member. This will be based on the selection panel's review of your application and whether or not you met the criteria or were competitive compared to other candidates.

Addressing Selection Criteria

THE STAR METHOD

Situation
Task
Action
Result

The STAR method is a useful way to assist you in addressing the selection criteria appropriately and may help you focus your achievements relevant to the selection criteria.

Situation

Where and when did you carry out the task or solve the problem or handle the issue you are describing? This may include the workplace you were in, your role at the time, your reporting relationships and how recent the example is. This information can generally be described in 2-3 lines.

Task

What was the specific task, problem or issue you were faced with? Who was involved? What was the nature and complexity of the task? What was the timeframe you were given? What were the consequences if the task or issue was not handled effectively? These are some of the points you would wish to consider when describing the task. This information can generally be described in 3-4 lines.

Action

What action did you take? What options were available to you and how did you choose the action you took? Focus on or highlight your contribution if it was in a team situation. You may describe how you researched a topic and which stakeholders you liaised with. Discuss other factors that contributed to the achievement of a successful outcome.

Describing your actions generally takes a few paragraphs. This is the section in which you need to be particularly succinct, ensuring you describe all the actions you took that led to the success (or otherwise) of your task.

Result

What was the result or achievement reached from the work described? Results are not necessarily measured in monetary terms, but could instead relate to the success of a campaign; the speed of implementation; a change in process or a new way of doing things; or something else that is equally important. The result can generally be described in 1-2 sentences. This information is particularly important, and is the one area many people overlook in their application.
